Re: Retailer Margin Increase

To Whom It May Concern,

As a fuel retailer on Prince Edward Island, we would be in favor of a retailer margin increase. All fuel retailers have felt the effects of the rising costs of operation and the increase would offset some of the increase in expenses.

In the past few months since fuel prices have increased, the credit card fees alone are taking a bite out of any margin we have on fuel sales. They increase by a percentage of sales but the per liter commission hardly covers it.

Thank you
