Please be conscious that making plans which includes any kind of power outages will badly impact people who are most vulnerable living at home. Seniors and others relying on accessibility and medical equipment requiring electricity are especially at risk. Even more so are those of us who live in rural areas and not near emergency accommodations. As well many cannot afford generators nor have the ability to operate them. The 18 day outage post Hurricane Fiona for me was an experience I still shudder remembering. Notices do not address the situation I am referring to. Rotating outages certainly does not.
