Subject: Comment on Proposed Diesel Generator Purchase

Hello!

I am writing to you because I find it worrisome that IRAC is considering the purchase of a diesel turbine generator those cases when electricity would be in higher demand.

Its own experts have mentioned how this is not the best option, how investing into battery storage would be more cost-efficient.

This proposed diesel generator solution would also increase energy prices for Islanders.

And all of this is not even considering the environmental impact of purchasing it for the next 50 years is not investing in the future, instead it is forcing Islanders to be tied to an inefficient technology that is not even guaranteed to work for the period that is promised to cover.

Please hear our concerns and listen to experts who are recommending other solutions instead.

Thank you!
