Petroleum Pricing Methodology and Margin Review Underway

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, May 11, 2026 – The Prince Edward Island Regulatory and Appeals Commission began a petroleum pricing methodology and margin review in Fall 2025. The scope of this review includes:

- Assessment of the continued use of the Charlottetown rack as the appropriate benchmark price used to make weekly price adjustments;
- Wholesale and retail margins for petroleum products;
- The Commission's interruption policy;
- Propane pricing;
- A review of the Clean Fuel Regulations and compliance costs; and
- The fuel products available in Prince Edward Island.

As part of this review, the Commission engaged an independent expert, Signal Energy Consulting, to assist with the review process and submit a report of findings. In April 2026, Signal Energy Consulting submitted its report and recommendations to the Commission. This report is now available and can be found on the Commission's website here.

The Commission is inviting public comments on the expert's report and the petroleum margin review generally. The deadline to submit comments will be announced when a hearing on this matter is scheduled and a Notice of Hearing is issued to the public. Written comments may be submitted in person or by email to:
