ÎLE-DU-PRINCE-ÉDOUARD

NOTICE

PRICING INTERRUPTION

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, March 10, 2026 – The Prince Edward Island Regulatory and Appeals Commission would like to advise consumers in Prince Edward Island that there will be a price interruption, effective 12:01 AM on Wednesday, March 11, 2026 on the following petroleum products:

- Regular gasoline
- Premium gasoline
- Furnace Oil
- Diesel

As noted recently, global events have resulted in market volatility, which sometimes requires unscheduled pricing adjustments (interruptions). The Commission has recently adopted the practice of providing advance notice if there will be an unscheduled price adjustment (interruption). This advance notice will include the products being adjusted and the effective date of the adjusted pricing.

The Commission is adopting this practice on a permanent basis to provide as much pricing stability and certainty to retailers and consumers as possible, especially when markets are experiencing increased volatility.

The Commission's next scheduled pricing adjustment is Friday, March 13, 2026.
